President

Betsy Boykin is the founder of Core Studio Design, a landscape architecture firm specializing in institutional and commercial projects. She graduated with a Master of Landscape Architecture from the Harvard University Graduate School of Design (GSD) and with a Bachelor of Arts in Art and Art History from Williams College. She has worked with several offices, including Child Associates and Hargreaves Associates in Boston, and founded the landscape studio at Ayers Saint Gross in Baltimore, where she most recently worked on the Pratt Street Concept Design. She has worked extensively across the country on the planning and design of projects including the University of Virginia's Alderman Road Housing, the University of Baltimore Langsdale Library Renovation and Virginia Tech's Holden Hall. She is currently working on Montgomery College's Science & Applied Studies, and the Washington and Lee University Natatorium and 3rd Year Housing Complex.
